++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry but rather cloudy.

Today:
Any fog slow to clear on Tuesday morning. A cloudy and largely dry day, with the odd bright spell developing at times. Turning breezier through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining cloudy across northern areas with outbreaks of rain arriving towards dawn. A greater chance of some clear spells developing in the south. Remaining on the breezy side. Mostly frost-free. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Wednesday:
Bright spells in the south, but thicker cloud and some rain further north. This slowly spreading south through the day, the rain then dying out in the evening. Winds easing. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Largely settled through the week, but on the cloudy side with limited bright spells in the afternoon and patchy drizzle at times. A risk of morning fog under cloud breaks.
